

Company Profile

Evolving Systems, Inc. (NASDAQ-EVOL) is a global provider of software and services that enable communications companies to support and manage their existing networks as well as to migrate easily to next generation networks.

Evolving Systems' mission critical software solutions support more than 150 million wireless subscribers and 150 million access lines worldwide.

The Company's portfolio includes innovative and comprehensive products for

- Activation
- Mediation & Assurance
- Numbering Solutions.

These products enable operators to improve the efficiency of delivering new services over existing and new technologies, helping them to simplify operations, reduce costs and improve the customer experience. Evolving Systems' products are designed with the flexibility and scalability to suit operators from start-ups to established Tier 1 carriers.

Founded in 1985 in the United States, the Company has headquarters in Englewood, Colorado.

Traditionally known as a leading provider of number portability solutions, Evolving Systems has completed three acquisitions since November 2003. These acquisitions were:

- CMS Communications (US), November 2003
- Telecom Software Enterprises (US), October 2004
- Tertio Telecoms (UK), November 2004

As a result, the Company has doubled in size in terms of customers, revenues and employees, broadened its portfolio and is now well-positioned to pursue its goal of accelerated growth and sustained profitability as a global company.

These acquisitions have resulted in a worldwide presence with offices in the United States, United Kingdom, Germany, India and Malaysia, employing more than 240 people.

In addition, Evolving Systems has worldwide product research and development capability with centers in North America and Europe as well as a growing offshore development capability through its subsidiary in India.
